Disclaimer & Funding

- The CHOICES Project engages in research and education. The information presented in this discussion today is for educational purposes only and does not necessarily represent the position of any CHOICES Project funders.
- This event is intended to provide information, tools, and resources to inform and educate the audience, and is not an attempt to influence any specific legislation.

This work is supported by The JPB Foundation and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (U48DP006376). The findings and conclusions are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily represent the official position of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention or other funders.

The background features a collage of images. On the left, there's a green arrow pointing upwards over a background of faint, overlapping text including 'question', 'policy', 'member', 'statement', and 'government'. On the right, there's a group of four people in a meeting. At the bottom, there's a row of five diverse children sitting at a table with fruit.

The CHOICES Community of Practice includes people whose work focuses on advancing obesity prevention, healthy eating, and active living and want to learn more about how cost-effectiveness analysis can advance their efforts and address health equity.
